CARPENTER MAY HEAD DRY BOARD

Jefferson-co Man Mentioned for Prohibition Commission

VICTORY OF MEASURE SEEN

Miller Bill Expected to Pass House Without Change

COLUMBUS.—(By Associated Press.)—The house temperance committee meeting this morning was expected to recommend for passage the Miller prohibition enforcement bill as it passed the senate Tuesday.

Rumors of attempts to amend the measure and reports that the bill as it passed the senate is unconstitutional were declared to be without foundation by dry leaders in the house. They predicted its passage without change.

So certain are dry leaders that the measure will pass with the emergency clause attached, making it effective as soon as it has been signed by the governor, that they have begun to speculate on who the prohibition commissioner will be. The name of Roy E. Carpenter, former prosecuting attorney of Jefferson-co., has been suggested by dry leaders. Joseph E. Beard of Bowling Green, Ohio, also is said to be under consideration. He is a former county clerk and former postmaster in his home town and is said to have strong political backing for the place. He was a candidate for a place on the state utilities commission.

TAFT MEASURE UP

The Taft bill authorizing cities to issue deficiency bonds for 1921 operating expenses without a vote of the people on the house calendar of action today but is expected to be deferred until next week, owing to absence of members of the taxation committee. Rural legislators are expected to be preparing to oppose the measure, at least until after a bill limiting law has been enacted. The senate yesterday passed the Taft bill requiring a license to fish in Ohio fishing the fee at 50 cents a year. Both houses were expected to adjourn for the week today.

OHIO MAY CARRY RATE CASE TO U. S. SUPREME COURT

Appeal from Interstate Commerce Commission's Order for Increased Railroad Fares Is Declared Likely by Member of the State Board

COLUMBUS.—(By Associated Press.)—The Ohio public utilities commission probably will appeal to the supreme court of the United States from the decision of the interstate commerce commission in holding that railroad passenger rates between points within Ohio must be the same as interstate rates, state laws to the contrary notwithstanding.

Beesher W. Waltemire, member of the commission, said today that it is quite probable that the fight will be carried to the supreme tribunal.

Three or four other states, whose intrastate rates were set aside by the commission, have already carried their fight to the supreme court. These cases are pending.

Waltemire said that Wednesday's decision of the federal commission does not mean necessarily that similar action will be taken with regard to higher freight rates on coal, which were recently disallowed by the Ohio commission.

The two cases are not parallel, Waltemire declared.

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press.)—The interstate commerce commission has ordered passenger fares in the state of Ohio raised to the same level as those prevailing in interstate commerce, effective March 3.

The increased rates also are to apply to Pullman charges, excess baggage charges, and rates on milk and cream in state traffic.

The commission held that the present state rates were discriminatory against interstate traffic and would result in an annual loss to the carriers of $4,800,000, which they cannot afford to bear.

"Any difference of transportation charges in favor of Ohio state traffic is of detriment to such cities and persons outside the state," the commission said. "The effects of the disparities may be slight and not always readily discernible, but they nevertheless are right. The difference in passenger fare against interstate traffic is six tenths of a cent per mile and when other considerations are equal it will naturally tend to influence persons in Ohio seeking markets in which to trade to confine themselves to Ohio."

TRACKS PLAY PART IN MURDER CASE

Mule's Shoe Imprints Used As Evidence at Winnes Trial

STATE FINISHES TESTIMONY

Defense Expected to be Completed Today

HARLAN, Ky.—(By Associated Press.)—When the murder trial of Dr. H. C. Winnes opened today the state regarded its case practically complete and the audience in the little courtroom complacently awaited efforts of the defense to untangle the skein which the state believes it has woven around the former state veterinarian in an endeavor to connect him with killing Miss Lura Parsons.

When the morning session began, it was the announced intention of counsel for the physician to conclude presentation of its case, before adjournment tonight.

It was regarded as highly important the evidence introduced late yesterday relating to imprints of a mule's shoes leading from the mountain trail over which Miss Parsons journeyed from Dillon, Ky., to the Pine Mountain school where she was a teacher.

W. W. Fielding testified that he traced the path taken by a mule with one shoe missing from the trail, 100 yards into the woods to the spot where Miss Parsons' body was found. It previously had been testified that Dr. Winnes rode a mule over the mountain and the animal had but three shoes.

Cross-examination of the defense today was expected to be largely directed at Fielding's testimony.

HE MAY SUCCEED FAMOUS CARUSO

Charlie Marshall, in the role of Othello

Charlie Marshall, American tenor, is looked to by many opera devotees to succeed Enrico Caruso as premier tenor of the operatic stage if the Italian singer finds it necessary to retire because of his unfortunate accidents. Marshall has just won praise in a Chicago visit and in his coming appearance in New York will be judged critically.

NEED OF HOUSING SUBSIDY SEEN

Senator Calder Predicts U. S. Action in Home Shortage

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press.)—The United States soon will face the necessity of subsidizing housing construction unless steps are taken to afford every facility for private construction to relieve the present shortage, Senator Calder of New York, chairman of the special senate committee on reconstruction, declared in an address here today before the National Council of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The country may be approaching a condition, the senator added, which will mean the "adoption of European precedents born of the paternalism of monarchies."

CONFERENCE OPENS

Senator Calder's address was made at the opening session of a two-day conference of the chamber's National council at which it will undertake to formulate a national program for relief of the present housing shortage. Representatives of the government, civic bodies and construction interests as well as industrial leaders from all parts of the country are attending the conference to assist in a solution of the various phases of the problem.

While he was opposed in principle to all income tax exemptions, Senator Calder said he believed that less than all were abolished, exemptions should be given mortgage investments in order to bring capital into the mortgage market and stimulate building.

STABILIZING PLAN

As a means of stabilizing the construction industry and preventing the public's exploitation thru combinations between employer and employee, Senator Calder said he had been giving much thought to legislation which would permit federal incorporation of trade associations and labor unions and bring them voluntarily under federal regulation. By this means, the senator said, the "responsibility of groups of employers and employees organized for trade purposes would be fixed, while collective bargaining would become a practical reality thru making the bargain a true and binding agreement."

DROPS FROM VIEW

Whereabouts of Mayor of Cork Not Known

NEW YORK.—(By Associated Press.)—Donal O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, whose status in this country was that of a seaman awaiting a chance to reship from some American port, has dropped out of sight.

His last public appearance was on Tuesday when he addressed the executive committee of the American Committee for Relief of Ireland here.

At headquarters of Harry Boland, secretary to Eamonn de Valera, president of the "Irish Republic," it was said today O'Callaghan's movements were unknown.

The hotel at which he had been staying reported that he had left several days ago.

WILL CUT PRICES

COLUMBUS.—Milk prices will be reduced here February 1. Quarts now selling at 15 cents will be reduced to 14 cents and half pints from five to four cents. Pints will continue to sell at eight cents.

STORK TO DEAL IN SETS

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—(By United Press.)—The flight of the stork from home to home is directed by the same planets which pointed out the path to the three wise men of biblical lore.

This is the theory of Professor Charles Kirchhoff, astrologer, who today predicted many sets of twins, triplets and quadruplets during the next six years.

But—there are some periods during the next six years when the stork will leave but one child. However, from the early part of February to the latter part of March; from early May until early June, and from November until Christmas, the old bird will deal in sets almost exclusively.

Double body signs adorn the planets during these periods, the professor said, and hence the necessity for larger cribs.

ALLIES CLASH ON GERMAN DEBT

British Reject Viewpoint of French Reparations

COUNCIL SESSION HALTED

Question Taken Privately by Lloyd-George

PARIS.—(By Associated Press.)—It was understood this morning the British delegation attending the session of the supreme allied council considered it impossible to agree to the French viewpoint regarding German reparations. The morning's sitting of the council was cancelled in order that David Lloyd-George, British prime minister, might have an opportunity to talk privately with members of the council regarding the French position as set forth yesterday by Paul Doumer, French minister of finance.

Louis Loucheur, French minister for liberated regions conferred with Mr. Lloyd-George this morning, continuing a private discussion they began last evening.

U. S. PROPERTY RELEASED

BERLIN.—American property in Germany which was taken under control by the German custodian of enemy property after the United States entered the war, has been unconditionally released, said Dr. Hans-Lothar von Haunhausen, under secretary for foreign affairs today. Final settlement with the American owners, however, has been impossible, owing to the provision of the Versailles treaty which stipulated that such settlements should be made thru an international clearing house, he added, and this operation cannot be carried out until the United States ratifies the treaty, or a new pact is negotiated.

BRITISH DEBT TO U. S.

PARIS.—Lord Chalmers, permanent secretary of the British treasury who visits to the United States has been deferred for a short time, will be entrusted with a mission to obtain a postponement of the payment of the British debt to the United States until 1935 and 1947, says "Pertinax," political editor of the Echo de Paris. He declares Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, who has arrived in this city, came here to report to Premier Lloyd-George on the matter.

Credits established by the United States treasury in favor of Great Britain from April 24, 1917, up to November 15, 1920, totaled $4,277,000,000, upon which there has been a repayment of $80,181,641.56. For these credits the treasury department holds obligations in the form of certificates of indebtedness payable as to principal and interest upon demand.

CLEVELAND.—(By Associated Press.)—Twenty-eight witnesses were subpoenaed to appear before Thomas Doreen, deputy state fire marshal, who began an investigation today in the cause of the fire which yesterday destroyed the Gray's Armory, entailing a loss of $300,000. ### TWO OF EASTERN STATES SHAKEN

Parts of New Jersey and Pennsylvania Are Rocked

CAUSE YET UNDETERMINED

Opinion Divided As to Earthquake And Explosion

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—(By Associated Press.)—The public was still mystified early today concerning the shock, that may have been caused by an earthquake, which was felt last night in Central and Southern New Jersey and in Eastern Pennsylvania.

While reports continued to be received of the foundations of houses loosened and pictures knocked from walls, no loss of life or injury to persons had been heard of this morning.

BUILDINGS DAMAGED

The shock was distinctly felt in Philadelphia, tho it appeared not to have been noticed at any point south of Walnut-st. Guards declared that the city hall building shook and tremors were distinctly felt in other buildings.

The earthquake, if it was such, extended as far north in New Jersey as Trenton and as far east as Mount Holly. Foundations of houses were damaged in Haddon Heights, N. J. Many other New Jersey towns reported having felt it.

BLAST THEORY DROPPED

The theory that the disturbances had been caused by an explosion of great force was abandoned in most quarters last night after newspaper men had searched in every direction in vain. It was pointed out that its effect had been so widespread that it was impossible to attribute it to an explosion.

Nevertheless, scientists at Swarthmore College maintained that it could not have been caused by an earth tremor as their delicately adjusted instruments could not have failed to register such a disturbance. They insisted that an explosion which the seismograph would not register no matter how great its force, must have been the cause.

The Crawford-co. purchase was made by the state board of administration thru John J. Stafford of Marion, at a price averaging $280 per acre. The deal has not yet been cleared, pending approval of the abstracts by the attorney general.

Dupont, multi-millionaire powder magnate and a divorced man, and Miss Jessie D. Ball, Rev. Baker P. Lea today faced possibility of a trial before a board in the Episcopal church. Foundation for the action against the rector was laid at a session here of the annual convention of the diocese of Los Angeles, at which a resolution was adopted, assuring Bishop Joseph Johnson the support of the body if he should see fit to exercise his authority by calling Lea to answer for violation of the canon which forbids a marriage ceremony by an Episcopal clergyman when one of the parties has been divorced and has a former spouse living.

NOT LURED BY GIRL

San Francisco Preacher Denies Charges Against Him

SAN FRANCISCO.—(By United Press.)—The Rev. Charles Wheatley, lecturer in the Market-st. Spiritualist church, today denied he had disappeared, or that he had been lured away by a beautiful woman, as charged by his wife.

Mrs. Wheatley had organized a search for her husband, telling a remarkable story of how a woman is alleged to have engaged her in a dialogue on leaves of a book, "Songs of the Heart," at a church service while her husband was preaching on "Fidelity." Wheatley explained his absence from home with a declaration that he wanted "to be free" so he could earn a living.

"I'm sick of being without funds," he declared.

Mrs. Wheatley had evidence corroborating her husband's finances. He had only $5 when he left, she said.

TRADE PLOT WITH BRITAIN DENIED

Marine Company 100 Per Cent American, Franklin Says

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press.)—Denial that a contract in 1903 between British government and the International Mercantile Marine "had anything to do" with the company's American registration was made today by P. A. S. Franklin, president of the shipping company, appearing at the opening of a shipping board's inquiry as to circumstances surrounding the contract.

"I have never seen, heard, nor had any intimation that this agreement had anything to do with our American flag tonnage," Mr. Franklin said. "Our experience has proved that the agreements have operated contrary to the best interest of British shipping and have given us the right to compete."

The inquiry was prompted by a statement made by Chairman Jones of the senate commerce committee last week that the International Mercantile Marine had entered into a twenty year agreement to "bar" the no policy injurious to interest of the British Mercantile Marine or British trade."

The witness said he challenged the statement that the company had submitted shareholder lists to common and preferred stock in 1903 and that foreign holders were divided less than one half and one per cent to England; five and one half per cent to Holland and a small fraction of one per cent to American and some South American nations. There were 5,000 American stockholders out of 10,000, Mr. Franklin said.

TIME IS UP FOR OLD LICENSES

Police Seek Auto Owner Law Violators—Arrest Made

Strict orders were issued to police at roll calls Thursday by acting Chief Frank Eberle, instructing them to arrest every automobile driver who is not displaying a 1921 license tag on the car they are driving.

January 5 was set by Secretary of State Smith as the last day to buy tags to avoid being arrested. This time was postponed to January 25, due to the small number of auto owners who had purchased their new licenses.

Shortly after the order was issued, Sergeant Goebel arrested the first violator. He was L. E. Butzmann, of Cleveland, and was using a license other than his own, police say.

Judge Emmett Jackson says he is ready to back police in their effort to enforce the state automobile law, and all persons brought before him on the charge and found guilty will be penalized for not abiding by the statute, he says.

Tuesday was the last day the law allows for not having a 1921 license plate displayed on automobiles, trucks, motorcycles and sidecars.

Butzmann was fined $10.

Mr. Harding not only turned down invitations to participate in a formal welcome but made plans to keep out of sight as much as possible during his call here. Despite the fact that the hour of his arrival was kept confidential, a large gallery gathered at the links to watch his golf match and another crowd lingered from early morning about the pier where it was reported he would disembark from the Victoria.

Leaving here late in the afternoon, the Victoria was expected to tie up for the night, a short distance to the south and to proceed tomorrow morning for Miami.

HEARING OF CRAIG SUIT CLOSED

Judge Bailey Has Commissioner Contest Under Advisement

County Commissioner Walter W. Craig, contesting the election of John W. Johnson and A. J. Gray to terms of four years as members of the board of commissioners, in the November election, charging that thru a wrongful count of votes in the fourth and sixth wards of Lima he was robbed of a four year term and certified for only two years, Thursday made public a letter he had addressed to Gray and Johnson concerning contest, after Judge Daniel M. Bailey had heard further testimony from the defense and had taken the case under advisement.

Claims and counter claims were set up by the plaintiff and the defendants, each averring that the other had been given more votes than they were entitled to, owing to different plan of interpretation of the voters' intention by the judges and clerks of election, in handling the ballots.

Evidence from judges of election in rural precincts was submitted Wednesday afternoon by Gray and Thompson to show that Craig had a shade the best of it in a count of the votes in their precincts.

Judge Bailey will make a comprehensive study of the evidence submitted in the preliminary investigation conducted by Justices of the Peace Durbin and Hotkin and which was presented by the defendants after the case was brought before him.

Whether a recount of the vote cast in the entire county for commissioner will be necessary, or will be ordered, is still to be decided.

In his letter to Gray and Thompson, Craig asked that they write in seeking a recount of the ballots of the entire county and that the cost of the proceeding be shared equally by the three men. Craig agreed to pay, even tho the decision should be favorable to him, which, under the law in application, would require the loser to pay the costs, he said.

Craig assures that there is and has been no ill-feeling in the matter so far as he is concerned.

KIDDIES ON THE STAGE AND IN THE MOVIES

(By ESTHER WAGNER.)

If you're at all curious, and you certainly are, haven't you often wondered how in the world the kiddies who appear on the stage and in the movies, get their education? Sure you have.

Well, they get just as much education as the other children. Take, for instance, little Marion Kane and Frankie Alexander, the child artists now appearing at the Sigma.

Frankie, while only ten years old, is in high school, passed all his exams last week and hasn't a care in the world—until next week, when he goes back to school.

Little Marion, the diminutive Miss who can sing a character song better than most grownups, confided to the writer that she doesn't mind school in the least—as long as they don't have arithmetic! Her hobby is geography, singing and dancing, and both the kiddies can entertain royally on the uke.

The impersonations of old George Primrose, the minstrel favorite, as put on by Frankie Alexander, are remarkable. Every movement is as natural and unaffected as a seasoned stage-dancer's and when one remembers that the child's age is but ten, it is almost unbelievable that a youngster could do it.

Miss Marion, who has attained the "ripe old age" of nine years, has been described as a child. For a boy, which description about fits her. She has pep and personality aplenty, sings the popular numbers in a fashion all her own and dances equally as well. Certainly Miss Kane has a wonderful future before her.

Each number carries charming little costumes and the act is beautifully staged. Indeed, you'll have to go a long way to see a kiddie act that is half as good as theirs.

So, after their engagement here, which ends Saturday, little Marion goes back to her studies and Frankie will again take up the scholastic duties where he left off. You see, they study in the day time and pursue their young stage career in the evening.

AIRPLANES BEAT "MAD MULLAH"

British Win Victory in Somaliland in Three Weeks

WASHINGTON.—How the British conquered Somaliland and dispersed the forces of the "Mad Mullah" by "bombing" shooting up, setting on fire his stronghold and scattering his forces and stock" by one of the first successful primary military operations by aircraft, is told in an official report received here today in military circles.

Somaliland, situated on the east coast of Africa, opposite the Gulf of Aden, came under British protection in 1885, and has ever since been a constant source of trouble to the British because of the rebelliousness of the native ruler of the country, whose constant "holy wars" and insurrections caused him to be designated as the "Mad Mullah." The British attempts to quell these uprisings have extended over a period of thirty-four years and in 1913 the British position became so serious that, according to the report, another military expedition on a larger scale than anything heretofore attempted, appeared inevitable.

The expense of such an undertaking was estimated at $25,000,000 and was raised by the British government for the purpose of presenting difficulties to the movement was indefinitely postponed.

It was then decided that an opportunity might be given the Royal Air Force to attempt a purely air expedition and to thereby prove the "value of aircraft as an Empire Police Force." The cost of this venture was estimated comparatively low as to an ordinary punitive expedition and the troops needed to the number of 2,500 to 5,000 were immediately available.

According to the report the total air force employed consisted of 22 officers and 164 other ranks, with a small medical detachment and 11 ear machines.

Upon reaching Somaliland the airplanes early removed all flying badges and gave out that they were searching for oil under an engineer. A base was established upon the coast where supplies of petrol and oil were landed. The subsequent operations are described as consisting of three phases, namely: "Finding the Mullah's stronghold, bombing shooting up, setting on fire his stronghold and scattering his forces and stock" by one of the first successful primary military operations by aircraft, is told in an official report received here today in military circles.

U. OF MICHIGAN BADLY OVERCROWDED

DETROIT, Mich. — Students crowded into a dissecting room so closely that there is no room for tables to lay their books on, a maternity hospital equally crowded and the doctors hardly able to make their way between beds, accommodation in the engineering department so limited that many of the students who expected to graduate in 1922 will be kept another year to make up their course, and a museum containing a priceless collection housed in a fire-trap, these are some of the conditions that exist at the University of Michigan and which caused the president, Marion Le Roy Burton, to declare at a luncheon of the Exchange Club that "It was a disgrace to Michigan."

There are 6,000 students in literature, science and art, he said, but there has been but one new building in fifty years. The rhetoric class is in a building that was condemned six years ago and is a veritable trap, said Mr. Burton. His daughter is there, and he could not sleep at night thinking that at any minute she might be burned to death.

VOTE ON TARIFF STILL BLOCKED

Emergency Measure is Held Up in Senate

FILIBUSTER IS CONTINUED

Democrats Keep up Fight to Prevent Ballot

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — The Senate fight over the emergency tariff bill was out in the open today and had become a question of strategy with its Democratic opponents.

While Senator Penrose, Pennsylvania, and other Republican leaders were pushing for a vote, Democrats were continuing two courses.

COURSES CONSIDERED
One was to adopt Senator Pat Harrison's filibuster now on its eleventh day as a party movement.

The other was to add the Republicans in getting a vote and then put on them the responsibility for results of the measure which his friends and foes agree will be to raise prices.

The drawback to the latter course is that some Democrats really favor the measure.

RECESSION FIGHT
The tariff bill was still before the Senate when it met today as a result of Penrose's strategy in forcing a recess instead of an adjournment yesterday. Republicans planned to keep the bill up as long as possible and Harrison was ready to continue filibustering or quit according to the advice of his party leaders.

Penrose said: "We are entitled to a vote. I believe we will get it. Anyway we smoked out the opposition and proved there is a filibuster."

Harrison said: "It will be easy to prevent a vote on the bill this session now. The danger point is passed. I will be a good soldier and do as the best interests of the country demand. At present, I have much more to say concerning the bill than I have said thus far."

YOUR NAME

By PHILIP FRANCIS NOWL
VARIATIONS — Nalder, N.
Nall, Nale.
RACIAL ORIGIN—English.
SOURCE—Localities.
Here is a group of family an understanding of which de-upon a peculiar and not often nized trend of development in language. It is the tendency to add or drop an "N" at the ing of a word.
You have an illustration of the word "apron" which origi-was "napron" a word developed the same root as our "napkin" the French "nappe." The cl-came about thru the swinging o initial "N" over the preceding finite article. Thus "a napron" came "an apron." Spoken, the sounds just alike; and at a p when standards of spelling were hard and fast the confusion deoped in writing, and this is st one case in which it has s Another instance is the
"orange," which, if we followe
more ancient rule, should "nora
The Spanish is "naranjas."
But in this group of family m the reverse has taken place, in case the initial "N" being the survival of the original prefix "a" (("atte" plus an "n" for sm sound before words beginning w vowel) meaning "at the").
Thus the name Nash was or ally "Atten Ash" (the bea house probably being marked by ash tree). Nalder comes from alder. Nalmer was originally the name "Nall" at the hall, was "at the ale," which needs the planation that the word "ale" medieval times was as often app to the place where the drink of be gotten as to the drink itself;
is, to the inn.

THE SCHWAB ATTACK

CRITICISM is easy. Anybody can work at it and a lot of people do. When it is honest and there is back of it a sincere purpose that brings to the light of day in pitiless publicity facts that the public should know, there is justification in it.

But there are times when criticism and a desire to expose are cruel in the extreme. Anybody who does things is subject to the critic, but unfortunately quite too often those who do the criticizing are reckless about marshaling facts before they begin an attack.

In the case of Chas. M. Schwab, head of the steel interests of the country, it appears from the information at hand, that the charge made he misappropriated $100,000 of government money while serving as a dollar a year man during the war, at the head of the emergency fleet movement, is too silly to be given attention.

After the charge was laid, the most searching investigation was conducted, at the request of Schwab himself. Altho the accusation was branded as false and all transactions proven regular, the damage that has been done to Schwab's reputation will remain with some persons. There will always be a suspicion in some quarters that he robbed the government.

When it is considered that Schwab was, prior to the war, at the head of the steel interests and that his private fortune was such as to make $100,000 a mere bagatelle, that alone would make foolish the belief that he would resort to wrongfully appropriating government funds. It is stated that he was too engrossed to present his claim for $1 for a year's salary, or refused to take it when it was tendered.

American people believe in fair play. In the case of Schwab it has been proved, to the satisfaction of all reasonable minded persons at least, that the wild charge of wartime graft attributed to him is wholly without foundation. Schwab was a tower of strength for his country in the war. He was a wonderful figure in developmental channels before the war and will continue along that line, but the heartache that goes along with being falsely accused will remain with him.

POWDER, ROUGE BARRED

THE first judicial order banning powder and rouge has come from a New Jersey judge. He has ruled that giggling girls who paint and powder shall not serve on juries in his court.

Much has been said concerning the use of these articles. We agree heartily with the Eastern jurist that there is no place on juries for the giggling girl, but whether the application to their faces of what the women term beautifiers is ground for prohibiting them from acting in this important task is debatable. The use of powder and paint is so prevalent that if women who use them are ruled out the courts may have few feminine jurors.

FIGHTING FOR HEALTH

FEW people in Ohio recognize or realize the wonderful fight that is constantly being waged by the state and national government, thru its well organized institutions and boards, in behalf of the people generally.

Too many of us are inclined at times to minimize the importance of university work, experiment station effort and the watchful eye and the long arm of authorized boards that reach out, day and night, in all directions, in a constant battle to keep pure the things that are sold to us as foodstuffs.

In earlier days, when there were fewer conscienceless and unscrupulous producers and distributors, these things were not necessary, but long before the war the need of pure food organizations, state supervised inspections and the application of stringent laws became necessary to save the great masses of the people from the effects of the machinations of the unscrupulous.

The state of Ohio is a zealous guardian of its people. In the matter of milk production alone, the watchful eye of the official family, so highly necessary, is constantly seeking tubercular cattle. They are at once destroyed.

Oftimes one wonders why taxes are so high and why there are so many officials and employees. We are a careless people in public affairs, leaving the guarding of our interests to carefully chosen men and women in the employ of the government. We have confidence in their ability and integrity. We feel safe in having it so. One cannot help wondering what would occur if this great machine that works for all of us day and night was suddenly to be stopped.

As a matter of fact, the state does more to preserve the health of individuals than the individual does for himself, simply because it is a state duty that laws be enacted to insure pure food and that inspectors and officers be provided to see to it that the laws are obeyed.

If the time should ever come that the health laws of the state become lax in enforcement; if the pure food laws should be torn down and free sway given conscienceless distributors of foodstuffs, then indeed would begin the decay of the nation.

THE MILLER BILL

OHIO has about as much need of the new Miller prohibition measure which has passed the senate and now is practically certain to pass the house as an Eskimo has for an electric fan. The state already has one of the strictest dry enforcement laws in the country and the addition of the Miller measure will only serve to increase the payroll by establishing the offices of a commissioner and a number of deputies.

The search and seizure clause will enrage the people of the state as no other piece of legislation in the last hundred years has done. The law, if held constitutional, will give prohibition agents authority to enter any abode where they believe liquor is held without the formality of first securing a warrant. It will open the way for crooks to invade homes at will and will tend to increase crime in the state.

Governor Davis had much to say concerning economy in his inaugural message. He pledged himself to cut down the number of offices. To make good he slashed the oil inspection service, but the Miller law will add more to the payroll than he saved by his first retrenchment act. It is not economy to tear down a system for service someone else has built up and then add twice as many employees to effect a better political machine.

MR. WOOD HAS A FAT CHANCE.
Alonzo Wood, a farmer near Savannah, N. Y., lost his gold watch valued at $100, while packing apples a few days ago. Search was made and many of the barrels not yet shipped were dumped, but to no purpose. Mr. Wood's monogram is engraved on the watch, which is believed to have been in a shipment to New York city. If anybody gets a barrel of apples with a gold watch included it is not meant as a prize package or covered by the first cost, Mr. Wood explains.

DON'T BREAK THE NEWS TO MOTHER.
A mother said unto her child,
Unto her, she did say—
"Remember you are going to
The city far away
Be sure and wear these flannels,
girl,
Up tight around your neck,
The city's cold, so wear these skirts
And wollen socks, by heck!"

The girl unto the city came
And saw how girls were dressed,
And straightaway threw away the skirt.
Also the flannel chest
Protector that her mother made,
And bought a shadow gown,
And every day, décollete,
She hoofed it 'round the town.

CHORUS
Don't break the news to mother,
For goodness knows, I tutter,
I cannot wear the junk she made

TODAY'S HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

HITTING YOUR CASE

I have intended writing more about the liver and its cantankerous machinery, but I have already received so many letters from readers who declare that such and such an article "hits my case," or that I have "described my case better than I could do it myself," or that it is so apparent that I understand such conditions much better than "these doctors around here" that I feel it is high time to change the subject, for evidently I have failed to teach the lesson I set out to teach. These correspondents should, as I have intimated, consult their own physicians. It is impossible for me or any other doctor to diagnose and prescribe without personally examining the patient. To diagnose and prescribe is not the function of this department. That is the work of the competent physicians and there are some in every community.

The prevention of gallstone inflammation (cholecystitis) and of gallstone diseases (cholelithiasis) lies in the methods I've preached here right along. In the first place the proper recognition (by periodic physical examination) of such septic foci as may furnish the bacteria necessary to set up the gallstone inflammation, and the proper treatment (by surgery or dentistry) of any such foci discovered in the examination is the surest.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is a doubtful day.
Women should exercise great care in business affairs as the stars predict for them a tendency to take unwise risks.
Milliners, importers and jewelers may find this an unfortunate rule for them financially.

It is prophesied that an American woman will be appointed to a foreign post of great honor.
Persons born on this day may have an unsettled year. Children born today should be specially guarded against accident.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter cough.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "3 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

WIFE FEARS SHE IS NOT LEGALLY WEDDED

TWELVE years ago a couple were married and the young man was not of age. He lacked a few months or so, and so told his wrong age. This has caused his wife a great deal of worry now as she feels where she let him do wrong and it makes her very unhappy. Is this marriage legal? Let him tell her it is and for her not to worry, but she doubts it. If it is not legal how can it be made legal? HEARTBROKEN

A marriage vow is simply a contract between two parties, a man and a woman, who agree to abide as husband and wife. The husband in this case subjected himself to perjury and the punishment thereof but ordinarily such cases are not prosecuted except on the complaint of the wife after marriage or one of her relatives who objected to the marriage. However, the woman should not subject herself to worry over the matter to this man and unless she or a member of her family wish to prosecute him, nothing serious need be feared.

Dear Susie:
Can you give me the name and address of some one who can give crystal readings in Lima?
I regret to say that I cannot answer this question thru this column.
D. C. Q.

Dear Miss Smart:
(1) I am 15 years old. Am I too old to wear hair ribbons? (2) Are socks going to be worn next summer? (3) Could we get a discount on an automobile tag if we would wait until the first of April? (4) Could I give valentines to my boy friend?
ROWENA Z. K.

(1) No, you are not too old, but very few hair-ribbons are worn now. (2) Certainly. (3) An automobile license may be had for three-fourths the price in April providing the car has not been used at any time since the first of January. (4) Certainly you could.

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a girl of 19 and have a young friend 20. I like him but just a short time ago I met another young man and I think now that I like him the better. This last one I met came to see me one time and when he left he asked me to kiss him goodnight. He is a perfect gentleman in every way. However, I refused him. Since then I have felt that I should not pay any more attention to him. Now I would like to regain his friendship. Will you please tell me what to do as I would like to have his friendship? HEARTBROKEN.

The young man was rather free with his request for a kiss. I think, however, you did the right thing in refusing him and should continue to do so in the future unless your friendship ends in something deeper. It is not an unusual thing for a young man to ask a girl to kiss him. If, therefore, you have no further criticism and would like to keep him as a friend, I think it would be alright for you to do so. Of course you cannot force the matter.

The humane society will meet in M. L. Becker's office at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon.

HE MARRIED HER TO GET REVENGE ON HER MOTHER, BUT IN THE END HE FELL IN LOVE WITH HIS WIFE

"The Daughter Pays", starting today at the Lyric, is one of the really tragic pictures of the screen. New, novel, interesting. Don't overlook it.

Elaine Hammerstein comes to the Lyric today for three days in one of the really charming photo-dramas of the screen. The title is "The Daughter Pays" and the story is by Mrs. Baille Reynolds, well known to all readers of good fiction. This man married the daughter to 'get even' with the mother, but it didn't work out just that way for after all he fell intensely in love with his wife. It is very easy to anticipate what thrilling situations such a plot might bring about, and you may feel well assured that the producers of this picture have left no loopholes open through which intense interest might creep out. Hatred nursed usually grows into a sorry thing, but in this case Osbert Gaunt found that out of hate grew the only real happiness he had ever known. You are bound to enjoy this picture for it has the essentials of enjoyment bound up in it. Starting today at the Lyric and running tomorrow, Friday and Saturday. Coming Sunday, one of the most delightful of them all, Louise Glaum in "Love Madness".

I have a message for you.
I am the personification of innocent girlhood.
I was unsophisticated and fell a willing victim to the allurements and blandishments of a gay deceiver.
I am a living edition of "What a Young Girl Should Know."
I desire to impart this message to you through the greatest medium of all time.
I want to show you how to avoid the pitfalls which skirt the pathway of every young woman who has to make her own way in the world.
I have transferred this wonderful story to the avenues of the silent drama.
I will accompany you through one of the most intensely thrilling series of situations ever pictured.
I have wound a halo of romance, second to none in all the history of love making, about my simple tale.
I depict the tenderest emotions which only a woman can know, and, little by little, with the aid of most carefully selected scenes, lead you up to a climax of breathless interest.
I carry you through the delightful rural atmosphere of New England in its palmiest days, before the invaders of Croesus made their unwelcome advent.
I give you glimpses of the gorgeousness of society splendor at its highest point, by way of contrast with that of the lowliest.
I show you how the hollow sham of false love must crumble before the heart-throbs of genuine affection.
I figure in a scene of rescue which will bring you to your feet in a perfect whirl of excitement.
I am Anna Moore in D. W. Griffith's "Way Down East," the mightiest picturization of all time.

Wonder Spectacle by D. W. Griffith to Appear at Faurot Theatre Eight Days

(By ESTHER WAGNER.)
D. W. GRIFFITH'S wonder spectacle "Way Down East," the greatest picture in years, is to be seen here for a limited engagement of eight days starting next Sunday, at the Faurot.
This marvelous screen version of the famous play of the same title has created the sensation of the year in theatricals. Griffith has enlarged and beautified the simple story to a great extent and the finished production is marvelous.
Lillian Gish, Lowell Sherman and Richard Barthelmess are prominent in the cast and Mary Hay, the perfect new bride of Mr. Barthelmess, also has a part in the picture. The climax showing the great storm and the breaking up of the jam and the ice flood on the river are dramatic effects seldom seen in pictures.
A special augmented orchestra accompanies the production. Seats for all performances will be placed on sale Friday.

This is not a spasmodic "sale," the prices you will find marked in plain figures. Our reconstruction price

$12<sup>50</sup> and $14<sup>75</sup>

Our enormous purchasing power, plus our large volume and small profits, makes it possible for us to regularly undersell our store competitors. # CITY HAS CLAIMS AGAINST O. E.

Damages, Street Repair, Paving, Total Over $20,000

That the city of Lima will not meet up with the experience that was had in 1902, when the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton R. R. passed into the hands of a receiver, City Auditor D. L. Rupert was engaged Thursday in marshaling the claims of the city against the Ohio Electric R. R. company, to be filed with Receiver R. J. Jones, as required by law, within a specified time.

Auditor Rupert understands that valid claims against corporations in the hands of receivers must be given consideration if filed within 20 days after a receiver has been named, but to make assured that the city's claim for several hundred dollars against the O. E. R. R. for damages, street repair, etc., will not be filed too late, the auditor will submit same to the receiver this week.

Advice was being awaited Thursday by the city auditor from the city legal department as to whether claims against the O. E. R. R. in the sum of about $20,000, street paving assessments, are required to be filed with the receiver.

Auditor Rupert recalled Thursday that when the D. T. & I. passed into the hands of a receiver, claims of the city totaling $7,000, for crossing lights, etc., were not presented and the city lost the money.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. — When Rev. Glen Smith attempted to "hold up" his friend, John Houghton, 68, as a joke, he was shot in the side. Houghton, recalling his experience with robbers two years ago, drew a gun and fired when the preacher ordered "hands up."

Only when his youngest child, Helen, 8, was at the point of death, would his wife, Mrs. Laura McCauley, Hazel-ave and Charles-st come to see the little one, Charles McCauley testified in his suit for divorce from his wife. He charged she neglected his comfort and that of his children, Evelyn, 11 and Helen. In the two and one-half years she has remained away, she has seen her children but twice, he told the court.
